Gail Christie

I was educated in the arts and explored a variety of mediums over the years, including painting, pottery, drawing, printmaking, and design. I continually took courses and was enamored of whatever area I was presently studying. After teaching art for over 36 years, I retired to pursue my own interests in 2006. I have enjoyed these past years, traveling with my husband, tackling many jobs that had been postponed during my working years, and concentrating most of my energies on our home and gardens. Flower arranging has become a major creative outlet these past several years. I look forward to seeing the creative endeavors exhibited in this Essex Art Association Show.
